Lovers & Duck Fittings

Functional lovers are a type of ventilation system that increase the rate of airflow in abuilding while reducing heating and cooling costs, therefore cefatributing to sustainable construction. Allowing air to move in and out freely may result in unwanted elements making their way in as well, so building owners that need help with hindering the entrance of outside factors such as rain, wind, dirt, debris, insects and birds find louvers to be a viable solution. However, there are times that louvers are simply added to the exterior of a structure for the sole purpose of being a design element.

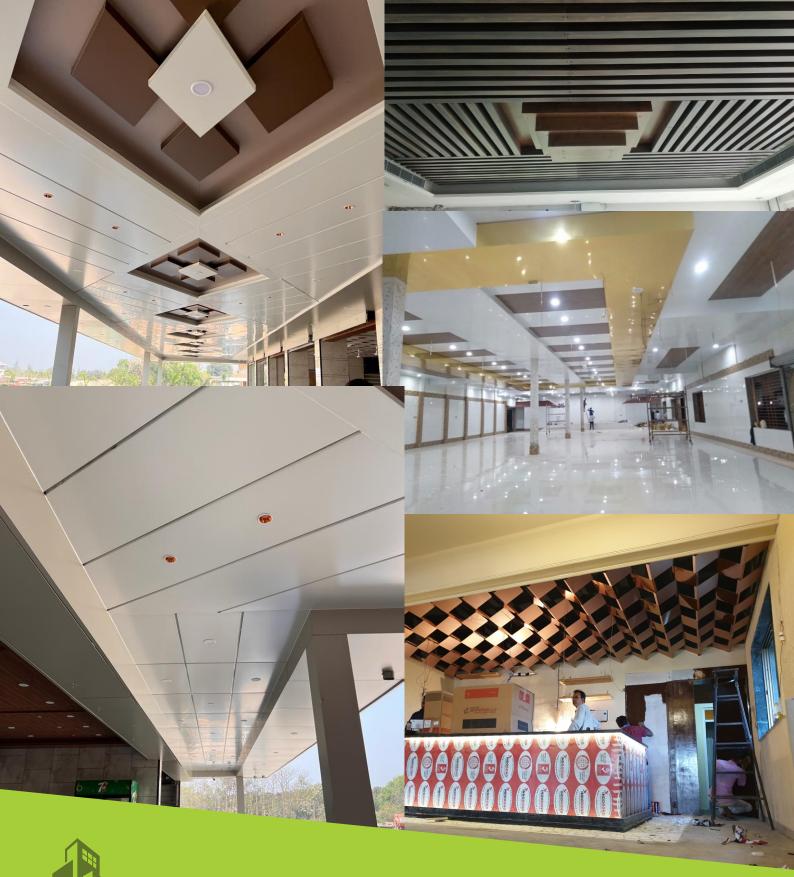

Portable Office

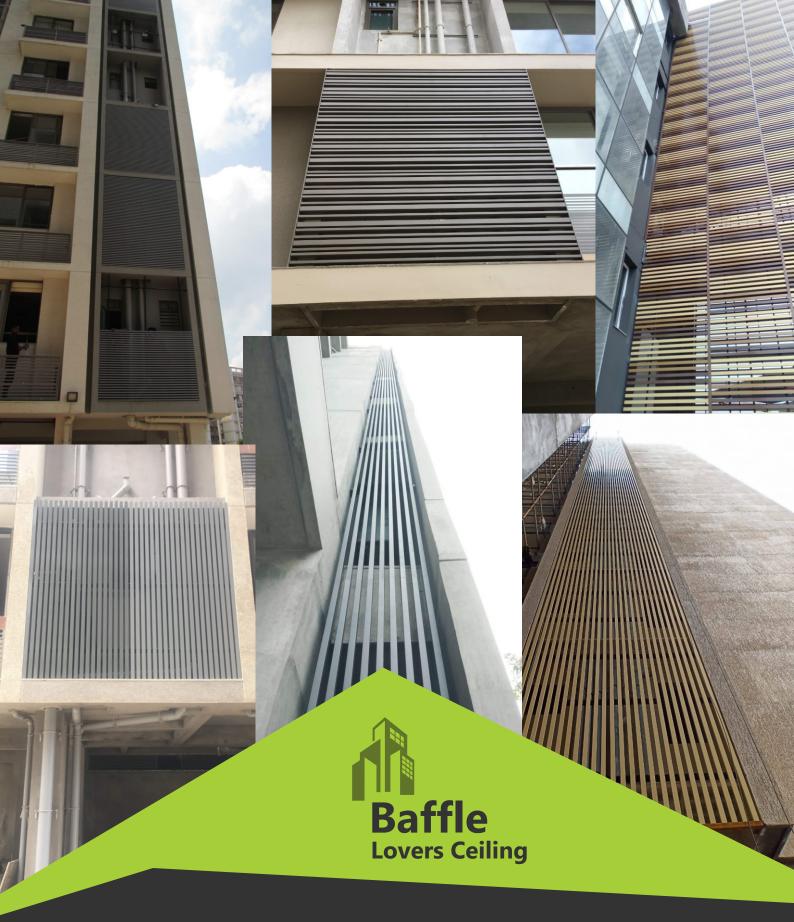

Portable work stations are the ideal choice for those who are looking forcrew cabins or mobile office. These are equipped with contemporary facilities to serve the very use of office environment. Our ranges of workstations have modular designed features combined with practical and well-furnished interiors ensuring the highest level of user's satisfaction. It is sturdy and able to withstand critical temperature and weather conditions. Some of the features of this portable office.

- Easily movable.
- No need to construct office every time
- Availability of different sizes
- Less time to install or change place
- Specially designed as per requirement

Baffle lovers are specified by architects and designers keep-ing in mind its great aesthetics, cost effectiveness and easy maintenance. This system does not just allow for great ventil-ation but also add a flair of sophisticated elegance to the exteriors. Our louver system is capable of withstanding Impact of harsh weather conditions while screening unsightly equipment from building elevation Maruti Laser Art offers both U-shaped and V-shaped lover panel swith parallel or horizontal arrangement of the panels that can be symmetric or designed
